This year we will have 3 events for rug rats (and parents) of all ages, shapes and sizes. There will be a pulp toss for ages 3-17. The little kids will probably only throw a pencil but still..... there's times when I see loads of wood going through town about that size. We'll have a log rolling contest too. This will be similar to the men's log rolling but maybe for a shorter distance. And we intend to have a crosscut event too. We will team up a young feller with a man on the pulp toss and crosscut. Only at the Springfield Fair. A good time, all day long. Go to www.thespringfieldfair.com for more information. ## Touching Animals at the Fair (PLEASE READ!)

When you attend an agricultural fair a large part of the positive experience comes from seeing and being around animals up close. Particularly for kids, it is fun to see, pet and even hold some of the animals. But, when you leave the animals it is VERY IMPORTANT to wash your hands. Wash them well. In recent years we have learned of more and more occurrences of diseases being transmitted between animals and humans - especially with kids. Children often put their hands near their faces, in their mouths, etc. and this can hasten infection.

Enjoy the animals - but be smart and safe. Always wash your hands when leaving an animal area. DO NOT EAT FOOD around the animals. Make certain that your kids wash their hands. We have hand sanitizer all around the grounds but especially in the barn and food areas.

Seed Swap

No. This doesn’t mean that you and the old man take a bite of watermelon and then “swap seeds” (wink wink). This is an honest to goodness chance to bring in your extra seeds and trade ‘em for some new seeds for your garden. We will have a table or two in the exhibit hall available for anyone who would like to bring in, or take, some extra seeds. The seeds (or plants) should be clearly marked as to what they are. Also, the year the seeds were harvested (if known).

Seeds and plants will be free for the taking. Please take only what you need or can use. Leave a few for others to share and enjoy. Sharing seeds can be a fun way to bring your gardens some diversity. Access to the seed/plant swap will be during normal exhibit hall hours.

ATTENTION ALL GRANGERS!

At Springfield Fair, premiums are paid for the general exhibit of Granges, including vegetables, fruits, dairy and home products made or grown within the past 12 months. Premiums are: First - $100.00, Second - $75.00 and Third - $50.00

To any grange not placing in the first three places, a gratuity of $25.00 will be paid.

If desired, a few plants or flowers may be used to add to the general attractiveness of the exhibit, but they will not be judged.

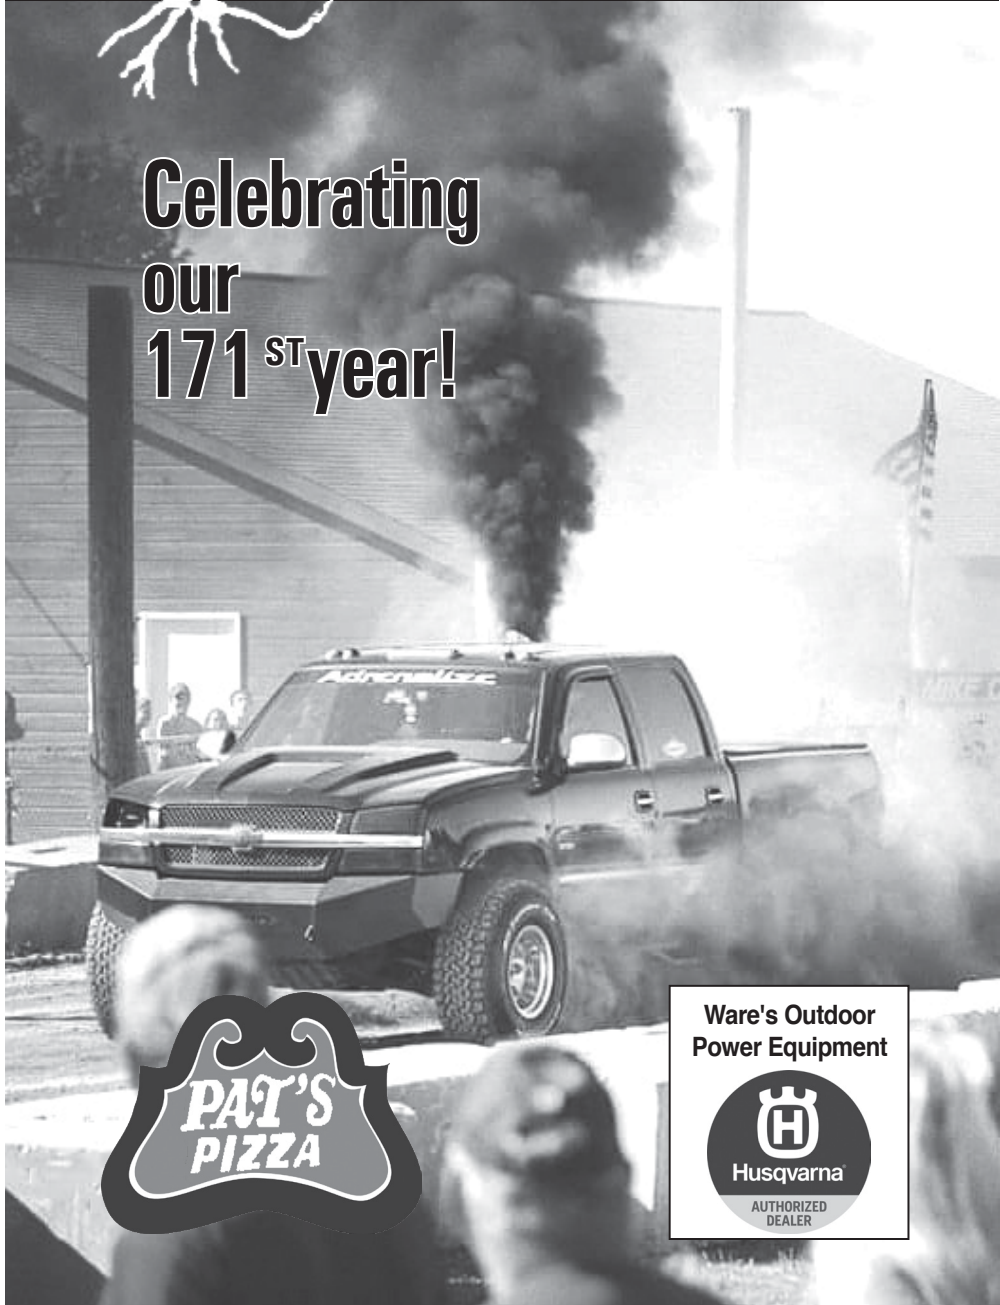

Scoring for Grange exhibits is as follows:

- |   |            |   |            |
|---|------------|---|------------|
| 1. Quality of products displayed            | 200 points | 5. Originality of theme                         | 150 points |

Because of the rich tradition of Grange involvement with state fairs in Maine, we are proud to actively support the Granges, and we appreciate the volunteers, organizational effort, time and care for the land and for agriculture which is represented by Grange activities.
